

To Whom it may concern,

This message is being sent in reference to the Indiana no-call list. I have been made aware that a business entity is challenging the "no-call" law in our state. The time I spend in my home is the most valuable time I have. I work very hard during the day so that I can spend relaxing evenings at home with my wife. My privacy is very valuable to me, and when I receive several business calls while at home relaxing becomes very difficult. Changing this law will only encourage me to cancel my phone service.

Sincerely,

Peter Strege
